Our Readers Write

Editor, Torrance Press:

A news story in your May 28 edition gave information regarding holiday pay provisions binding upon stores under contract with Retail Clerks Local 905, AFL, which was not correct and which misquoted the writer.

Most establishments operating under the Mercantile Agreement with Local 905 must remain closed on the contract. Those which may open for business, under the Mercantile Agreement, are limited to the following: Drug stores, Florist's shops and Confectionary stores, and they must pay double time to employees working on holidays.

Liquor stores, under a separate agreement, must pay double time to employees working on the designated holidays. Food stores, under a still another agreement, must pay time and one-half in addition to straight time to all employees who work on the holidays designated in that contract. Your past cooperation has been appreciated, and we hope you will be kind enough to print this correction.

Very truly yours,
FRANK S. SELOVER,
Executive Secretary Harbor Area Employer's Council

KNOW YOUR REALTY BOARD

The Torrance-Lomita Realty Board claims a rich cross-section of American life in its membership. This week's realtor in the spotlight is a Disabled American Veteran.

H. J. OSBORNE
... civic minded.

formerly from Post Number 13—H. J. Osborne.

Jim now has real estate offices at 3026 Torrance Blvd., Torrance, where he and his wife Grace, make their home, and 1536 W. Pacific Coast Highway, Harbor City. But he started his business career in Hollywood where he owned and operated a furniture store after a medical discharge from the Army. Murrayville, a little town in the western Illinois, with the Osbornes and about 150 other families, is Jim's birthplace. His mother and father moved to Glendale, California when Jim was a little boy, so Jim went through grade school in Glendale, attended Glendale Junior College and Long Beach City College where he majored in Business Law and Insurance — which helps account for the fine business he has established, perhaps.

Grace and Jim Osborne are civic-minded and carry a fine share of responsibilities in their community. Jim has worked with the Western Avenue Improvement Association, is a delegate member of the Harbor District Chamber of Commerce, as well as being an active member of Torrance's Lions Club. Besides assisting her husband with his activities, Grace works with women's groups in Torrance. Of course Jim maintains active membership in his business organizations — the National, State and Local real estate groups. This year he is an indispensable member of the Multiple Listing Committee where he gives of his time and knowledge, along with the other committee-men, to improve the Multiple Listing Service to our brokers and our city.

Sewing Club

Members of the Betsy Ross Sewing Club will gather at the home of Mrs. Edna Babcock, 723 Columbia Pl., on June 9, to continue sewing for the Club's Bazaar to be held in the Fall. Ten thirty in the morning is the hour set for the gathering, and each member is asked to bring her own sandwich, the beverage being furnished by the hostess.

Sgt. Arnel To Return

Army Sergeant First Class Floyd W. Arnel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Arnel, 927 Arlington ave., Torrance, is slated to leave Germany early in June for the U. S. under the Army's rotation policy.

He is with Headquarters Company of the 56th Quartermaster Base Depot in Giessen.

Before entering the Army in July 1945, Arnel attended Jefferson City (Mo.) Junior High School and while in the Army has attended the Quartermaster School in Darmstadt, Germany, and the Army's Engineer School in Murnau.
